ARMY GARAGE FOR SCHOFIELD POST

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Aug. 12.—Owing to the large number of automobiles belonging to the officers of the regiments stationed here the exchange of the First Infantry has decided to establish a garage where minor repairs and supplies can be secured. This has been a necessity for a long time since visitors in machines are a daily sight in the garrison, the barracks being on the itinerary of the round-the-island trip.

Colonel McGunagle, the commanding officer, has in contemplation the issuance of an order prohibiting the storing of gasoline in any other place than the proposed garage. Thus reducing the fire danger to a minimum.

WATER LAWNS IN EARLY MORN

affected, and large quantities of water are needed daily to keep them in proper condition. Despite the fact that the best hours for watering the thirty plants is in the evening, after the heat of the day and with the night coming on when the grass and trees will have time to absorb most of the moisture before the hot sun's rays cheat them of it, the watering must be done as per new rule, from 6 to 8 o'clock in the morning.

If the man of the family hasn't time in the morning to attend to this himself, the members of his family must do so, or he must employ additional help; otherwise his plants must suffer or he must lose his right to any irrigating water at all.

Such is the rule, and it is to be enforced.

Another notice from the water department applies to the same condition. Defective fixtures on private property must be attended to before September 1. Inspectors will call on or shortly after that date and if defects are discovered the pipes will be closed without further notice, while meters will be installed and the users then be compelled to pay for their water by the thousand feet. Of course the meters will be installed at the government's expense and the charge will be made such that those using only a normal amount will pay only equal to the flat annual rate in effect at present.

"HIT'ER UP," CHORUS GIRLS CRY, AND IT COSTS CHAUFFEUR $10

Ed. Miller Obeys Request of Patrons to Extent of 40
Miles an Hour

An automobile load of chorus girls squealing joyfully to "speed 'er up" was the cause of the arrest of Ed Miller, proprietor of the Miller garage, at midnight last night, and he was fined $10 and costs this morning by Judge Monsarrat for speeding along King street at a 40-mile clip.

Miller was returning from Schofield Barracks when arrested, and had an automobile loaded with members of a musical comedy company now playing at a local theater. In front of him in another car was Albert Bowers, one of Miller's chauffeurs, who was also driving a boy of chorus girls, members of the same company, which had been giving a performance at Leliehua earlier in the evening.

Motorcycle Officer Abreu was at his residence on Kaili street, Kaili, when the cloud of dust which resolved itself into two machines made its appearance, swirling along the road towards Schofield Barracks, late in the afternoon. Knowing that the speeders would be back in the evening, he took up his stand at the side of the road with his motorcycle ready.

Abreu Nails Miller. Shortly after midnight the machines came humming along the road and Abreu waited until they passed at a 40-mile rate, when he jumped on his motorcycle and gave chase. Abreu was directly behind Miller's machine, and after racing behind Miller for nearly a mile, he caught up with him in front of the Kamehameha Schools and placed him under arrest. Bowers was not arrested, as he was concealed by Miller's car and his time could not be taken.

Miller pleaded guilty when arraigned before Judge Monsarrat this morning and was fined $10 and costs. Judge Monsarrat declared that the light fine imposed was due to the fact that the circumstances of the case had not been explained to him and that the motorcycle officer failed to appear in court to state his case.

Colonel W. E. Wilder of Schofield Barracks narrowly escaped injury in an automobile accident at Kaipapa gulch yesterday afternoon, when the automobile in which he was riding collided with an automobile full of soldiers and women speeding along the road towards Honolulu.

The car in which Wilder was riding is the property of George Wells and was driven by Pulawa. The other car, which is alleged to have been on the wrong side of the road, was driven by L. Arao.

Wells Explains. In discussing the accident, George Wells said:

"I want to straighten out the much-jumbled account of the accident as it appeared in a morning paper.

"A. A. Wilder was not in my car. The only persons in my car were Col. W. E. Wilder, commander at Leliehua, and my chauffeur, who was driving the car. At Kaipapa gulch a car driven by a Japanese chauffeur came speeding towards us, and on the wrong side of the road. My car was going to Leliehua. As my chauffeur could not turn out there was a collision, in which my car suffered some."

STOCK EXCHANGE MAKES RECORD

Promotion governed the election of officers of the Honolulu Stock and Bond Exchange at the annual meeting today, the retiring vice-president succeeding to the chair and the retiring secretary to the vice-presidency. The new officers are as follows:

William Simpson, president. R. H. Trent, vice-president. W. P. Roth, secretary.

Trent Trust Co., treasurer, succeeding Hawaiian Trust Co.

A record year's business was reported by the retiring president, Albert P. Afong, in his valedictory letter being as follows:

The President's Report.

Honolulu, T. H., August 1, 1912.

To the Members of the Honolulu Stock and Bond Exchange:

Gentlemen:—I present herewith my report for the year ending August 1, 1912. The year just closed has been one of the most successful in the history of this Exchange. We have held seventeen executive sessions. There has been one change made in our constitution, viz: the amendment of article VIII, regulating the application of members.

During the year we have lost three of the charter members of this Exchange; Mr. Armitage and Mr. Brown retiring from active brokerage business, and the third through the death of the late Mr. James P. Morgan.

We have added to our calling list during the year, Hawaiian Territorial 4 per cent bonds and Natomax Consolidated of California 6 per cent bonds representing issues of $13,000,000. In the early part of the year the bond issues of the Hawaiian Irrigation Company and the Hamakua Ditch Company were taken off our calling list, but I am pleased now to report that these companies have made application to again have their bonds placed on the list. I take this opportunity of urging that the listing committee for the coming year continue to endeavor to procure the listing of those industrial stocks which we often have occasion to handle.

The Exchange has been fortunate in obtaining from the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association the cabled sugar quotations and also in receiving from Messrs. Alexander & Baldwin, Ltd., from time to time, the shareholders' lists of its various plantations.

Keeping in mind the desire of the Exchange to secure quarters on the ground floor, for the reason that they may be more easily accessible to the public, and believing that the Exchange should be of some assistance to other commercial organizations for the purpose of inquiring into the feasibility of securing a building. You are aware of the progress made up to the present time. This Exchange has expressed its willingness to subscribe liberally in the form of rental, and, though no definite plans have as yet developed, it is hoped that the enterprise can be eventually carried out.

I attach a table showing the recorded sales of stocks and bonds for the year ending August 1, 1912. The total cash value of the recorded business just doubles that of the year ending August, 1911, and exceeds our largest previous year, 1910, by a little over one million and a quarter dollars. The total sales for the year 1910 amounted to $10,128,339.24, while this year's recorded transactions amount to $11,380,714.69. January, February and March were our largest months; February 572. As usual trading in Oahu Sugar was reaviest; 50,719 shares sold for $1,729, 435. 42. Hawaiian commercial is second in the amount of trading, with Waiialua a close third. In bond transactions Olan heads the list with sales amounting to $1,003,930; McBryde follows with $572,697.50.

The prospect is that the 1913 sugar crop will equal that of this year and, should it market at a fair average price, I see no reason why the trading for the coming year should not at least equal that of the year just past.

Respectfully submitted, ALBERT P. AFONG, President.

"SYMPATHY FOR FREAR", SAYS GEORGE CARTER

Says Taft Is to Blame for the Present Gubernatorial Situation

"My sympathy goes out toward Governor Frear, as I take it that he has had to do the best he could while in ignorance of what the next day will bring forth."—Former Governor Geo. R. Carter.

Chairman George R. Carter of the Progressives' provisional committee here, the man who said a few months ago that the reappointment of Governor Frear would be a "tactical mistake," this morning expressed sympathy for Hawaii's executive in his present position.

Mr. Carter sees in the fact that Governor Frear has not yet been either reappointed or not reappointed an evidence that President Taft is not serving the best interests of Hawaii.

Chairman Carter was asked this morning to explain what the Progressives mean in the resolutions of ratification passed last Saturday by the following:

"We ask and court a comparison of the record of President Roosevelt toward Hawaii with that of President Taft and Hawaii."

In reply, Mr. Carter took the present gubernatorial situation as an illustration.

"It was the duty of the President," he said, "to appoint a Governor on the eighteenth of last December. My sympathy goes out toward Governor Frear, as I take it that he has had to do the best he could while in ignorance of what the next day will bring forth."

"One of the reasons that he has had difficulty in getting men to serve is due to the uncertainty of the future. A gentleman told me the other day that if he wanted to do any business with the Department of Public Works that he had to telephone to the Honolulu Iron Works. He couldn't find the Superintendent of Public Works at his department office. This is a commentary on the situation. Who's to blame? I take it, nobody but the man in the White House."

Referring to Mr. Roosevelt's record, the ex-Governor said:

"Roosevelt came in right after McKinley. He found Governor Dole in difficulties with the Hawaiians or the Hawaiians in difficulties with Dole. McKinley had been hounded by all sorts of petitions and kicks, and they were transferred to Roosevelt. He took the stand that Hawaii must be developed along American lines, and the impression was that he took this stand at the sacrifice of the work that had been done to build up Hawaii through sugar, and for a time it looked as if his administration were going to insist upon the cutting off of all labor, and that to carry out such a plan it might be necessary to go through economic reorganization, to build up some other industry along different lines. But after he had studied the situation further, he became convinced that the men here were honestly working along lines he had laid down as essential, traditional American lines. When he found this out, he gave it out that he had no idea of tearing down to build up, and would back us up. From that time on he left us alone and used his best endeavors to help us with appointments and financial matters, and we recognized the efforts being made by him wherever he could.

"More progress was made in the direction of building up a middle class in Roosevelt's tenure of office than during the last four years. During this last four years the feeling has seemed to prevail that we are pretty well off as we are. There is more apathy now.

"During Roosevelt's administration there was in Hawaii an increase in the employment of citizens in skilled labor positions, which is not now being pushed as it was under Roosevelt.

"In supporting a presidential candidate and voting for him, people mustn't forget the platform and the party with all its traditions behind the platform. Cleveland illustrates this point, a splendid, strong man but unable to accomplish much, hampered and controlled by the leaders of his party, and his greatest claim for admiration is the fight he made against these very interests.

"Hawaii has nothing to fear from four years more of Roosevelt in the White House; that is, if we can judge by the past."

"I suppose you have to close your eyes to some things while you are in Congress."

"We go even further than that," replied Senator Sorghum. "Sometimes we go fast asleep."

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF LOOTING SAVINGS BANK

Officials at the naval station have arrested W. Gagnon, a hospital apprentice of the navy, on a charge of stealing thirty dollars from a hospital steward. The money, which was all in dimes and nickels, was taken from a small savings bank where it had been put for safe keeping by the owner. The handful of small change which Gagnon scattered about so profusely among his fellows, led to his arrest.
